

The Columbian

Serving Clark County, Washington | August 17, 2007

62°F

» Forecast

» Weather Alerts

AMAZING STONE
KITCHEN & BATH
GRANITE COUNTERTOPS

Home | News | Business | Sports | Opinion | Arts & Living | Photo | Education | Classifieds | Jobs | Auto | Real Estate/Rentals | Shopping | Travel

Search:

Columbian.com

Subscribe | Contact Us | e-Edition | Site Map | Archives | Advertise

LOCAL & US/WORLD NEWS

columbian.com » News » Local News

- » Local News
- » State News
- » US News
- » Politics/Elections
- » World News
- » Crime Watch
- » Neighbors
- » Science
- » Vital Statistics
- » Obituaries
- » Milestones/Bridal
- » Entertainment News
- » Strange News
- » Weather
- » Ski Report
- » Traffic/School Closures
- » Special Sections
- » Archives
- » Local History

- » Portrait
- » Video Files
- » Audio Files

In your neighborhood

Wednesday, August 15, 2007

Central Vancouver: Minnehaha and The Heights

Fourth Plain Village: "A really fabulous peach cobbler" was a highlight of the anti-crime National Night Out celebration in Evergreen Park, according to resident Robert Peck. Hot dogs and other potluckery were also fantastic. Approximately 50 people were on hand to meet Neighborhood Police Officer Duane Boynton and talk about the neighborhood action plan, now being revised by the association.

Central Park: Approximately 30 neighbors enjoyed fried chicken, lemonade and potluck dishes at the annual National Night Out anti-crime celebration at Quarnberg Park. "We were fortunate to have so many officers come by," said Norma Watson, association president, including Neighborhood Police Officer Duane Boynton and Vancouver Police Chief Cliff Cook. "We are really quite excited about the new system" for neighborhood policing, she said.

Meadow Homes: An ice cream social sweetened the National Night Out celebration at Meadow Homes Park. About 20 people attended the event and had a chance to meet Neighborhood Police Officer Duane Boynton. "The new neighborhood police officer program is an exciting additional resource for the community," said Dawn Mohr, president of the neighborhood association.

HANSON
Construction
& Restoration
Fire-Water-Smoke-Mold
Serving Vancouver &
Portland for over 25 years

WIRELESS TOYZ
Your Cellular Superstore!
NOW OPEN
in Vancouver!

FREE Children's Immunizations

Free Clinic
of SW Washington

Community Home Health & Hospice
Peace of mind for