Congratulations, “50 Trees to Cool Your Summer Breeze” Team Member!

UC Davis & CaUFC says the 50 trees we planted today will remove 200 tons of CO₂ annually!

One tree removes 4 carbon credits from the air per year (1 credit = 1 ton of CO₂); one person produces 400 pounds of CO₂ per year.

Therefore, one tree is needed for every 20 people to make the environment carbon neutral.

Trees remove gaseous pollutants by absorbing them through the pores in their leaf surface.

Particulates are trapped and filtered by leaves, stems and twigs, then washed to the ground by rainfall.

Urban “heat island” effects will be reduced by the shade of the tree you plant today!

The vista is now enhanced for every person ever looking in the direction of the tree you plant today!

Wildlife will now have the option of selecting a new home in the tree you plant today!

By selecting The Great Clean Air Tree Planting Project, SB, Phase II, 50 Trees to Cool Your Summer Breeze,

YOU ARE MAKING A LONG-TERM POSITIVE IMPACT ON OUR ENVIRONMENT!
