Carlos Solis also donated $100 USD for snacks for Children's Day!

He remembered being a student in a poor school in Mexico. So he wanted to help the REEEPP volunteers give a special treat the Ban Na Fa students.

A special thanks to Mr. Carlos Solis from the teachers, volunteers, and student representatives from Ban Na Fa.

Mr. Tanawat starts the games.

Everyone is excited and wants to win a prize.

Mr. Wittaya organizes a bingo game.

We had to listen carefully as Tuyen called out the numbers in English.

If we have the number on our form, we cover it.

We need to cover 5
numbers in a straight line to win.

If we win, we have to say the numbers in English to Tuyen.

Students listen and follow instructions to win some prizes.

We had to try to do different things with each hand all at the same time.

There was a balloon blowing contest.

© 2007, G.K Lee & S. Lee

It was a race to see who could blow up their balloon until it bursts.

Erika and Andy
asked us
questions in English.

© 2007, G.K Lee & S. Lee

Everyone listens hard and tries to get the answer.

When we gave a correct answer, they gave us prizes.

Students got prizes if they had their NWF bracelet from the 2005 REEEPP volunteers.

We say “Thank you” and shake hands
when we get our prize.

There was a blindfolded banana eating contest.

This is not an easy way to eat a banana.

There were many games to play. And everyone had a chance to win a prize.

The big-small contest tested listening and coordination.

© 2007, G.K Lee & S. Lee

Kindergarten students sing English songs to earn prizes.

Anyone can try to sing and win a prize.

We had a special beauty contest.

© 2007, G.K Lee & S. Lee

It was hard to pick a winner.

Some boys tried the hanging banana eating contest.

We played musical chairs.

Some of us played a balloon-stomping game.

Then we all got to line up and get snacks and gifts from the REEEPP volunteers.

We got practice speaking English to say “Thank you” to the volunteers.
