

Dear Neighbors,

The Board has been alerted to another attempted break-in of a vehicle at the Scott home at 107 Bakerfield Drive.

At approximately 3:45 am on Saturday, April 21, 2012, Mr. Scott caught someone attempting to break into one of their vehicles. This person was a Caucasian male who was on foot. He first noticed a suspicious person riding a bike through our neighborhood on Bakerfield Drive. Within moments, someone came through the yard from an adjacent neighbor's property on foot. It is believed that the suspect rode through the development and parked the bike elsewhere, maybe on Landview Court, and proceeded on foot.

Mr. Scott noticed something was amiss when the driveway motion lights came on, and someone was looming by the vehicles. He yelled out and the suspect ran back through the adjacent neighbor's yard. The police were called immediately. They dispatched an officer to patrol the development, but no one was apprehended. It has only been one week since the last incident occurred at the Scott's property.

As in previous messages, the Board is encouraging all residents to PLEASE lock all vehicle doors and home windows and doors. Perpetrators have become much bolder in their attempts, and these types of incidents appear to be on the rise. If you notice any suspicious persons or activity, please contact the local authorities immediately.

Your consideration in this serious matter is greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,

The Commodore Estates II Community Board
