

In 1910, Guldlin Park on Van Buren Street adjacent to the Van Buren Street Bridge was the scene of a playground and baseball field.

Today, it is a boat ramp and large green field.

John Hilt, a long time resident on Wells Street has given his collection of pictures to Bloomingdale. So I will be sharing them.

Remember when the schools had a Safety Patrol with students?

Officer Ted Butz is in the center back. Remember him?
