

Trip on Fort Wayne Rivers

July 16th, 2014

The trip was 8 miles making it a 16 mile round trip on the Rivers in Fort Wayne

Boat Ramp by Sherman St Bridge

This was really a wonderful site
It is by the Greenway Trail and Tecumseh Bridge

Tecumseh Bridge Reflection with looking down the river

Calm water with beautiful greenery
on the river banks

Photos taken as we come to the Martin Luther King Bridge

It was just starting to get dark and the lights were coming on the Bridge as we passed by on the river.

Thanks for a wonderful evening on the rivers

- Josh, thanks for inviting us to be part of the group that got to tour the rivers.
- To Dan, the Captain that really knows the history of the rivers.
- To Judi, who always can entertain us.
- To all the other people on the pontoon, some we have already met and to all the new people we met on this wonderful trip.

This is only a sample of the many photos that were taken on our trip of the Rivers of Fort Wayne.

In July, 2014 as part of the 3 Rivers Festival,
a FREE PONTOON RIDE was offered.

About 4,000 people took advantage of this opportunity.

This is a wonderful way to look at the city.

It is a really different view!
