On the left is a picture of the arch entrance off the parking lot before demolition started. On the right is the arch that was saved.

This picture was taken on 12/23/2014.
