

nbc5i.com

North Richland Hills To Tow, Impound Uninsured Drivers' Cars

City Following Policies In Place In Other Cities

POSTED: 9:15 am CST December 27, 2005

UPDATED: 9:30 am CST December 27, 2005

NORTH RICHLAND HILLS, Texas -- Police in North Richland Hills will be on the lookout for uninsured drivers.

Beginning Jan. 15, police in the city will be towing cars if the driver does not have the minimum amount of auto insurance required by the state of Texas.

Related To Story

Live Poll: Should Cars Be Towed, Impounded If Driver Has No Insurance? | Discussion

The owner will also have to pay the towing and impounding costs as well as a $310 fine.

Other cities, including Arlington, Irving and Haltom City, all have similar policies.

Copyright 2005 by nbc5i.com. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.