

From : <RJESUS438@aol.com>
Sent : Saturday, June 10, 2006 2:16 AM
Subject : Copper Snakes

Can you please pass this on to everyone? My friend lives over in McPherson Ranch and last night his next door neighbor knocked on his door to tell him his air conditioner was making noise. When he was looking inside he found a snake inside hitting against the fan. He looked it up on the Internet and it was a copperhead snake. Copperheads are very venomous. Here is a little info on them for ones that do not know. Click on the link or copy and paste: <http://www.texas-venomous.com/contortrix.html>. Good info with all the construction going on around us. He lives in the area of McPherson where very little construction is going on. You should be able to spot them fairly easy in the backyard.
I'm just being causes since my son goes out in the backyard to play.

Jesus Rodriguez