Arizona DPS cracking down on distracted drivers

The Department of Public Safety is putting renewed focus on distracted driving and has begun cracking down on offenders. According to DPS, distracted driving caused about 11 percent of all crashes in Arizona — nearly 1,200 in a four-month review period.

Because driving while rubbernecking, texting or using a cellphone is not in itself illegal in Arizona, DPS has started enforcing a new application of an existing law.

Statute 28-701A requires that drivers maintain a speed that is no greater than what is "reasonable and prudent" -under the circumstances.

"The essence of the idea ... is that it is not reasonable to drive any speed without looking," DPS Officer and spokesman Carrick Cook said. Bills that would ban texting while driving in Arizona have repeatedly failed to become law, but Cook said the department believes it can combat all forms of distracted driving under the current statute.

Arizona is one of seven states without an all-driver texting ban, according to the Governors Highway Association. There is a federal law that prohibits truck and bus drivers texting and driving.

The new application of the law is wider-reaching than a strict texting ban, which DPS officials say is only one element of the problem. Outside diversions, such as roadside wrecks or traffic stops, accounted for 22 percent of distracted-driver accidents between late November and April, more than any other singular factor, -according to the DPS study. DPS Capt. Jeff King said minor crashes often become a distraction for passing drivers and can trigger much more serious accidents.

Eating or drinking factored into 11 percent of the accidents, cell phone use in 9 percent and texting in 2 percent. "When you look at the data, there are so many other distractions," King said. Cook said DPS officials are well aware that the new interpretation of 28-701A will likely be challenged in court, which is why the agency pre-emptively collected the data for reinforcement. According to the four-month study of crashes that were related to distraction, 380 resulted in injuries and 10 led to fatalities.

Traffic stops: Top 5 driving distractions

These are the singular most-cited driving distractions from Arizona drivers during traffic stops from Nov. 27, 2013, through April 1, 2014. (Out of 8,647 crashes.)

1. Cell phone use
2. Other occupants
3. Outside distractions
4. Other electronic media
5. Eating or drinking

Crash Victim's Family Encourages Others To Drive Safely

By: Brittany Gunter - Email

Updated: Mon 10:29 PM, Apr 21, 2014

It's been several years since 16-year-old Kylie Rimmereid from Bennington was killed in a crash. Her family says she may be gone, but she's definitely not forgotten. The tragedy has motivated them to encourage others to drive safely. Kasey Rimmereid loves spending time with her family and has always been especially close to her sister Kylie. "We're 13 months apart. We were very close," said Kasey. She describes Kylie as fun and active with a vivacious personality, so it was devastating when the family lost her three years ago. "It hasn't been easy at all, it hasn't been easy for any of my family." Kylie and two others were in a Volkswagen Beetle when the driver lost control and crashed into a tree near 168th and State in Bennington. Officials say the driver had been speeding. Kylie was killed. "Life is precious. You don't get to determine when you get to go," said Kasey. What the family does want to do, is try to prevent anyone else from having to go through the same tragedy. The past three years they've formed a team and participated in the Keep Kids Alive Drive 25 5K Run/Walk to Remember. This year is no different and they're hoping to have more support than ever.

"We try to do everything we can do to keep her memory alive that involved her personality. The runs are fun and active. We do a lot of fun stuff like that."

They're asking people to slow down and be careful while driving and most importantly cherish every moment you have with your loved ones.

The event is on Saturday, May 3rd at Skutt High School. Registration begins at 7 a.m. and the run/walk starts at 8:30 a.m. You can find more information or register at www.KeepKidsAliveDrive25.org.

vast array of talent they poses. The event featured free food, poetry readings, displays of art work and a performance by our very own Jazz Band. The evening was filled with festivity and commemoration and will continue on as a long standing tradition for the Moon Valley Rockets.

Warriors for Change

Posted on 2014/04/16

On Saturday, April 12, 2014, Moon Valley Swim Team and PomLine participated in the Warrior Dash in order to raise funds and awareness for St. Jude's Pediatric Cancer Research Hospital. Our athletes wanted to do something to help this cause and help fight the monsters the patients battle every day. St. Jude works each day to find cures and help patients. Our students believe these patients are the real warriors, so they became their Warriors for Change. Some of our Moon Valley athletes actually took on the course and raised funds to donate to St. Jude. Way to go Warriors for Change, and most of all we send our support and concern to the families and children who are in this fight

Educating for Democracy

Posted on 2014/04/03

Every year students from all over the country get the opportunity to travel to Washington DC through a program called Close Up. This is a non-profit, non-partisan foundation whose mission is to educate and empower young people to participate in our political system of democracy. This March, Social Studies teacher Ms. Zamar, led our students on this adventure. While there, participants translated classroom learning into real life interaction. These trips are not your typical lectures and seminars. Students visited memorials and monuments, and with the aid of program assistants, attendees engaged in discussions about the significance these landmarks still hold today. Students even visited the halls of Congress and personally met Senator Jeff Flake and Congressman Trent Franks giving our students the opportunity to voice their concerns about Arizona issues.

When the work days were over, students enjoyed socials and evenings filled with debates and discussions about their experiences. What a wonderful way to enrich our students' classroom learning and to broaden their view of our country and the world.
